HOW GEN. SCOTT TAKES HIS DEFEAT.

During the debate in the House of Representatives last week, Mr Gorman, a Democrat, while speaking in favor of conferring the title of Lieutenant General upon Gen. Scott related the following anecdote, to show the complacency with which the gallant chieftain looks upon the Presidential defeat of November last. Mr. Gorman said, some weeks since I called upon him, and asked why he did not come down that we might see him. He replied that he had not been out, having been confined to the discharge of his official business but would be happy to see his friends; and then added: "several days ago," and then added: "several days ago, I was invited to visit New York for the purpose of attending the funeral of the Duke of Wellington, but declined because I had been buried a short time before, and tho't that it would not look well to see one dead man follow to the grave another."

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Clipper also relates the following: Gen. Scott was marketing as usual, when the vender, whose apples he was examining remarked——"I should like to sell you some sir, as I lost twenty-five dollars on your election." "Ah," rejoined the great defated, "I regret your ill-forture, buried for the stones, and the words of the stones, and the words of the stones and the part of the stones and the part of the stones and the part of the stones are placed to transact all business in the above line with prompthess and dispatch, and on hiberal terms.

Coughs and Colds AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE LUNGS

AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE LUNGS

NOW is the time, and this the season of the year, when, by the sudden changes in the weather, wast numbers of our citizens are subject to these distressing complaints, and more especially are these prevalent among children. Let all remember that these are harbingers of fearful diseases, and in many instances, the original cause, which bring many, both young and old, to an untimely grave.

Let all remember, that Dn. CLARKE'S Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry and Tar, is the great specific for these Complaints.

They combine the three great requisites of CHEAFNISS, EFFICIENCY and DURABILITY, besides being handsome and ornamental.

The single and only objection that can with reason be urged against the Osage Orange hedge, is,
the time required for its growth—this takes three summers, or two and a half years, from the setting
